

AYLA B. REYNOLDS
DOB: 4/4/10

NOVEMBER 21, 2011

CC: FU for left humerus fracture.

She's been comfortable and active.

X-RAYS are done today, AP & lateral of the distal humerus, which demonstrate remarkable interval formation of callus. There has been no significant displacement of the fracture. It's a little bit laterally displaced in the coronal plane, although relatively axial-aligned on the lateral.

ASSESSMENT & PLAN: She's basically healed this. I think she should probably stay in the splint for another 10 days or so, come back for an x-ray, and then I anticipate mobilizing her. X-ray next time will be out of the splint.
